What is IMMA?

The Indiana Municipal Management Association (IMMA) is a non-profit, non-partisan organization composed of City and Town Managers, Chief Administrative Officers, and Assistant and Deputy Managers. Funding is provided by annual dues paid by the individual members. The organization is governed by a nine member Executive Board and managed by an Executive Director.

The purpose of IMMA is to support municipal and county management and to strengthen and promote professional local government management in Indiana. IMMA is committed to providing training, networking opportunities, resources and technical assistance to municipal managers and administrators throughout Indiana. It is imperative that we provide those cities and towns that currently employ or seek professional local government managers with the most qualified and best trained in the profession. IMMA is affiliated with Aim – Accelerate Indiana Municipalities and the International City/County Management Association (ICMA). These professional associations provide valuable training and resources to the IMMA membership. In addition, IMMA offers a number of training and networking opportunities throughout the year to members.

Being a corporate member of the Indiana Municipal Management Association (IMMA) is designed to provide your organization with many unique opportunities. Each member will be able to interact with municipal managers from all around the state of Indiana. These managers are responsible for the operation of municipalities, including economic development, public safety, purchasing, contracts and personnel. The benefits of membership are listed under each category to the right. Each membership is valid for one (1) year. If your company does business with municipal government, you cannot afford to miss the opportunities provided by IMMA through its Corporate Membership Program. The choice is good for your business, and good for municipal government.
