

SAVE THE DATE

Aim Youth Councils Network

The Aim Youth Councils Network is committed to serving Indiana's emerging leaders. Those leaders play an integral role in preparing our cities and towns for the future through local youth advisory councils run by a growing number of municipalities. For the 2018-19 school year, Aim is offering an exciting mix of leadership development opportunities for youth. Watch out for more details and registration materials on the events soon. For now, please Save the Date! We'd love to see you there!

Saturday, October 13, 2018
Indiana's cities and towns

Youth councils are known for giving back to their communities! The inaugural Aim Youth Service Day will celebrate and highlight this important work. On this day, participating youth councils will plan and take part in a community service activity. The activity is completely up to the youth council – and Aim is excited to see the unique projects launched across the state! Be sure to use #AimYouthCouncilsServe2018 on social media platforms when sharing photos and information throughout the day.

Aim Youth Councils Network questions? Please contact Chelsea Schneider, Aim Municipal Innovations Specialist, cschneider@aimindiana.org.

Saturday, February 16, 2019
Indiana University-Bloomington

The Aim Youth Councils Network's signature event will return to Indiana University-Bloomington in 2019! The exciting day of leadership development will include opportunities to interact with youth council members from across the state; an inaugural awards luncheon that will highlight the transformational work of youth councils; and engaging discussions with thought leaders! Also new for 2019, the event will feature a Friday night meetup for youth councils arriving to Bloomington ahead of the Leadership Summit!

Monday, April 8, 2019
IUPUI

This immersive day into the Indiana General Assembly and state government promises to be action packed. Participants will learn about the top issues being debated by lawmakers during the 2019 legislative session, tour the Indiana Statehouse and get a chance to meet state leaders and see lawmakers at work firsthand. Participants also will take part in interactive activities, where they'll get a turn to debate some of the hottest issues and learn how youth civic engagement influences policymaking.

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

SCHOOL OF
PUBLIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS
Indiana University

