Dear Colleague,

This is an exhilarating time to be a community leader, as legislation changes, the politics fluctuate and public opinion evolves, we never know what to expect in our role! Fortunately, we have great resources and an avenue for connecting with others who understand our challenges and opportunities through the Indiana Municipal Management Association (IMMA). I'm sincerely happy to be a part of our organization and I hope you are too.

Enclosed is the 2019 membership renewal form. The IMMA board has kept the dues the same for years while the benefits improve. I personally find the email list serve incredibly valuable as a way to get quick feedback and direction when faced with uncertainty. Many of us enjoy great relationships with municipal managers and other professionals because of the networking and educational programs offered by both IMMA and Aim (Accelerate Indiana Municipalities). Membership in IMMA leads to engagement with the international organization- ICMA-where the professional development opportunities are immense.

Be a part of the IMMA board meeting on March 20 and stay for the AIM legislative dinner.

Mark your calendar to join us at the IMMA Annual Conference where you will advance your knowledge and have a great time, too. It will be held May 1-3 at the Embassy Suites by Hilton Plainfield at the Indianapolis Airport. We're planning sessions with informative topics and networking opportunities.

Watch for emails from our regional directors for our annual northern, central and southern region networking meetings. These are usually casual discussions held over lunch, well worth the short drive.

Look for updates from Tonya Galbraith, our legislative committee member, who will keep us updated as legislation is proposed that can impact our communities. We are fortunate to have representation through Aim to keep us informed about pending changes. She'll keep us aware so we can hold our legislators accountable for the decisions they make that can impede or accelerate our town or city.

Get involved and join us if you aren't a member of IMMA yet. If you are a member, reach out to your neighboring Municipal Manager and share your insight about how valuable this organization is to you.

Together, we are an amazing force creating change, and enhancing our communities, our regions and our state. We serve with distinction that comes from the dedication and commitment we give to our residents. IMMA is here to help us achieve excellence in our careers so we can uplift our communities.

Details for all the opportunities above will be at AimIndiana.org. Thank you for your support of IMMA.

Best regards,

Tena Woenker
2019 IMMA President
