Dear Supporter,

It's been more than ten years since the Indiana Conference of Mayors launched Trust Local as a means for changing the debate in the General Assembly, and reminding policy and thought leaders about the gravity of local decision making. Utilizing targeted sponsorships, personal outreach, and other tools, ICOM communicates a message of collaboration and mutual trust that emphasizes how putting more faith in Indiana's municipalities helps move Indiana forward.

In its eighth year, the ICOM Trust Local golf outing has grown steadily into a must-attend for mayors and corporate members. We look forward to returning to the course this year to celebrate once again local leaders and the key role they play in the Hoosier state.

Participating in this annual fundraiser is a fun, relaxing way of supporting a quality initiative and spending time with peers. And, what golf outing would be complete without a few contests and bragging opportunities? Join us in Lebanon in September!

Alan Weiss, Greendale Mayor and ICOM President
