

AIM YOUTH COUNCILS NETWORK LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

Saturday, September 30

O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs
Indiana University Bloomington

Across the state, Hoosier students play an integral role in preparing our cities and towns for the future through local youth advisory councils. Aim launched the Aim Youth Councils Network in 2018 to amplify and support that vital mission. The Aim Youth Councils Network is committed to serving emerging leaders, and through the program, we endeavor to increase the number of municipal leaders who run local councils and offer networking opportunities and leadership development for youth.

The Youth Leadership Summit is the signature event for the Aim Youth Councils Network! On Saturday, September 30, the Youth Leadership Summit will take place at the O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs on the Indiana University Bloomington campus. The event will bring together student leaders from across Indiana to discuss community engagement, local government, and project development. Attendees will also have plenty of time to meet and network with peers.

My Community, My Vision

Participants in the Youth Councils Summit will learn about My Community, My Vision (MCMV). MCMV is a youth-driven placemaking partnership between the Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCDA) and Patronicity. While the program was launched in 2016, IHCDA has re-introduced the program with a new vision for connecting young people in Indiana to the places they live and allowing them the opportunity to make a positive impact in their communities.
