March 13 - 14, 2023 Bottleworks Hotel, Indianapolis

Mayors Institute is a high-level learning experience, designed exclusively for mayors. The Institute is a partnership between Aim and the Indiana Communities Institute (ICI) at Ball State University that's helped to make the program better than ever before.

By participating in the Institute, mayors will gain practical tools that can be applied to the real-life challenges public officials face on a daily basis. During this day and a half program guest speakers and Aim staff will present an agenda of highly substantive sessions that will lead mayors through unique leadership and problem-solving exercises with their colleagues from across the state. Featuring many opportunities for the sharing of innovative, effective strategies to run city government, Mayors Institute sessions are timely, relevant and essential.

Aim and ICI will host Mayors Institute, March 13-14, in Indianapolis. All Hoosier mayors are invited to participate in the Mayors Institute to achieve certification in this exciting city leadership program.

Participation and Recognition in City Leadership

All Indiana mayors are strongly encouraged to attend at least two Mayors Institute sessions each year. Aim and ICI will award mayors a Certificate of Achievement in three levels. Achievement will be measured by participation and attendance at the Mayors Institute sessions. Additionally, mayors that have reached Indiana City Leadership Ambassador status are eligible for an advanced level: Indiana City Leadership Executive. For more information on Mayors Institute Certificates of Achievement, visit aimindiana.org/mayors-institute.

Accelerate Indiana Municipalities (Aim)

Ever since the 1890s, Aim, formerly the Indiana Association of Cities and Towns, has been an advocate for Indiana municipalities. Aim is the official voice of municipal government in Indiana, with more than 460 cities and towns as members. Our purpose is to foster, promote and advocate for the success of Hoosier municipalities as laboratories of innovation, hubs of talent and the engines driving our state's economy.

Ball State University Indiana Communities Institute

ICI addresses the modern challenges of economic development through community-based strategies for sustainable growth. Although their efforts focus on strengthening communities throughout Indiana, this strategy serves as a model for university economic development efforts across the nation. The research-policy-practice framework allows ICI to tap into talent and resources from research and outreach units across campus. ICI's partnerships lead to informed, effective projects and strategies that bring development efforts into the 21st century.

MARCH WORKSHOPS

American Manufacturing is Cleaner – and Better for the World

U.S. manufacturers across industries are highly carbon efficient compared to most overseas. This is an enormous strength of our economy. Promoting domestic manufacturing is thus good for the economy and for the global environment. This workshop will explore America’s ‘carbon advantage,’ outline policies aimed at leveraging this unique asset and detail ways Indiana’s municipal leaders can both protect the environment and the economy.

Steve Rice, Managing Director, Americans for Carbon Dividends

Open Door Law

You likely understand the basics of the Open Door Law. However, missing the details can have serious consequences. This session will fully cover the Open Door Law, including what has changed in recent years and what has stayed the same. Discussion will also cover when you have to meet in open meeting versus when does Executive Session apply.

Chou-il Lee, Partner, Taft Law

When we gather in Indianapolis for Mayors Institute the legislature will be roughly halfway through this budget-writing session. In other words, a long way from over! Participants will receive a rundown on the status of bills impacting property taxes, TIF, eminent domain, outdoor refreshment areas, annexation, and more. We’ll highlight where more grassroots outreach will be helpful and answer any questions you have about specific legislation.

Jenna Bentley, Government Affairs Director, Aim
Matt Greller, Chief Executive Officer, Aim

Redevelopment Commissions and Real Estate Development Projects

This session will explore the advantages of utilizing the powers of a municipal redevelopment commission to facilitate economic development projects that include the acquisition, disposition or leasing of real estate.
